Obstreperous Passenger Fatally Wounded on Excursion Train.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch]
Winston-Salem, Va., September 20.—
Walter Coleman, a burly, obstreperous negro, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded on a negro excursion, returning at an early hour this morning from Reldsville. Special Agent E. W. Oliver, of the Southern Railway, did the shooting, but he says he did not fire his pistol until after Coleman had knocked him down three times with his fists. The ball struck Coleman in the left lower jaw, and located near the root of his tongue. The negro was beating a woman passenger, and resisted when Oliver went to arrest him. No warrant has been issued for the special agent.

Assisted, when necessary, by gentle applications of Cuticura Ointment. No other emollients so pure, so sweet, so speedily effective and therefore economical. No others have done so much for poor complexions, red, rough hands and dry, thin and falling hair. No others have afforded such comfort to skin-tortured and disfigured infants and children and tired, fretted mothers. No others have been so successful in preventing infantile skin troubles becoming life-iong afflictions.

In short, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have become the standard popular skin remedies for the preservation and purification of the skin, scalp, hair and hands of young and old throughout the world. Sold wherever civilization has penetrated. Sale greater than the world's product of other emollients. A 32-page Cuticura Booklet, by mail, free to all.
